IMPLATS APPOINTS A NEW OPERATIONS HEAD FOR RUSTENBURG

Implats is pleased to announce the appointment of Nelson Ndlala as the new Executive Head: Rustenburg Operations with immediate effect. He will report directly to Terence Goodlace, the Chief Executive Officer and will take responsibility for leading the Company's Rustenburg operations. He will serve as a member of the Executive Committee as well as represent the Company on a number of its operational boards.

Nelson is a registered professional mining engineer with extensive gold and platinum mining experience. He joined the Company in 2005 as a Senior Mine Manager and soon advanced to lead many of the Rustenburg shaft complexes as General Manager. During his tenure with the Company, Nelson has also served as the Head of Technical Services leading the Company's engineering, planning, ventilation, rock engineering, training, safety and risk initiatives at the Rustenburg operations.

In addition to his engineering degree, Nelson also has a Masters of Business Leadership (MBL) degree from the University of South Africa and has recently completed an Executive Development Programme at the Harvard Business School in Boston, USA. He is a long serving member of the Association of Mine Managers of South Africa and currently serves as the President of the Association.

Implats wishes Nelson every success in his new role.
